Grace for Today: Believing You're Already Amazing

Grace for Today

Believing You're Amazing Already

Discovery Verse

Isaiah 28:16b (NIV)

"See, I lay a stone in Zion, a tested stone,
a precious cornerstone for a sure foundation;
the one who relies on it will never be stricken with panic.

Grow Your Grit

I get so lost trying to figure out who I "should" be.

Embrace God's Grace

I am amazing, just the way I am – right now.

Digging Deeper

1. If a friend was listing my strengths and skills what would they say?

"I am a woman that says it all depends on me. Knowing that Jesus is the cornerstone, that it all depends on Him, means the pressure is off."
~Holley Gerth

2. What ONE SMALL step can I do this week to embrace one of my strengths or skills?

3. Write ONE short statement about that strength or skill:

4. Do I have friends who will tell me my strengths and skills when I forget? (Yes? Write them down. No? Write about why.)

5. What can I let go of, and refer to someone else so everyone's gifts are celebrated?

Prayer

Dear Jesus, would you help me see me how you see me? I am willing to go first and then to encourage other's in their strengths. Open my eyes to see strengths in myself and in others. I'm so grateful you say I am already amazing. You are my cornerstone and I thank you for that, Amen
